Hotel Gayoso. Two withesses took b, the entire forenoon.

J. L. Sheppard, representing the Illisis Central, was of the stand for cross amination when the hearing reopened. The declared that it was impossible for a system to remedy any discrimination against Memphis and Louisville amber concerns when his road had a ste lower than the local combination and when activity of Northern roads ther than his own were said to be responsible for the reputed disadvantages. Relative to shipment of lumber frough Louisville he pointed out that perating expenses of the L. C. line saiding to that city were so much reafter than over divisions routing out a Cairo, Ill., and other points that it has to the advantage of the shipper of to consign through Louisville. He was cross examined by J. V. Norman, of Louisville, representing the outhern Hardwood Traffic association. Decisions of the interstate commerce commission relative to transit suits brought about by Nashville lumbermen against the N., C. & St. L. and which were thrown out by the commission were cited by J. M. Dewberry, counsel or the Louisville & Nashville lumbermen against the N., C. & St. L. and which were thrown out by the commission were cited by J. M. Dewberry, counsel or the Louisville & Nashville who was but on the stand by the railroads shortly before moon. This case, Mr. Dewberry declared applied to transit relast at Nashville when the N., C. & E. L. offered such privilege at local olints along its lines.

An instance of where his road had anted special rate privilege to a manfacturing concern to receive lumber from a point in Arkansas in 1917 wescited by Mr. Dewberry, who stated at this was the ione exception the & N. had ever made in through eight rates. The order has been relimined, he stated, and would never lave been considered had his line hown such would lead to a general ove toward this end.

The hearing is expected to continue hursday.

191 State and County Taxes Became Delinquent on March 1, 1920

Under the law, penalties for the month of March amount to six and one-half per cent of the original amount of the taxes past due.

On April first the penalties will be increased to eight per cent and on May first to nine and one-half per cent, as provided by law.

During the month of May all property upon which 1919 state and county taxes have not been paid will be advertised for sale, and on June first all such property upon which taxes have not been paid will be sold to the state, in accordance with the law. This will entail an additional expense of one dollar on each tax bill, to cover cost of such advertising.

Taxpayers are hereby notified of these increasing penalties, the application of which is made mandatory by the tax laws of the State of Tennessee.
